

Dr Zafar Mirza

Currently working as Regional Adviser – Essential Medicines & Pharmaceutical Policies at East Mediterranean Regional Office of World Health Organization in Cairo, Egypt, covering 22 countries. Medical graduate with Masters in Public Health. Special interest, experience and trainings in drug policy/management issues. Other experience includes psychiatry and rural health service. In 1992 established a non-profit “Association for Rational Use of Medication in Pakistan” later transformed it into the first national consumer organization in the country: “The Network for Consumer Protection”, served as its founding Executive Director for 12 years. Organization is active in pharmaceuticals, tobacco, water, un-ethical marketing, consumer mobilization, legal research, consumer redress, trade issues relevant to public health. In 1995 won Britannia Scholarship for MPH in London and selected as Eisenhower Fellow for the year 2003 by Eisenhower Foundation, USA.. Have served on the faculty of Boston School of Public Health and was part of UN Millennium project Task Force. Serve as member of Foundation Board of Health Action International and as member of WHO International Scientific Advisory Group on Globalization and Health. Led a delegation of Consumers International at 3rd & 4th WTO ministerial meetings in Seattle and Doha. Co-authored a joint publication of WTO and WHO: “WTO Agreements and Public Health”. Number of other publications; memberships and honors are on credit.