

On Ancient Egyptian Philology

Alessandro Roccati

This research paper presents a critical approach to the study conducted by Simon D. Schweitzer that was published in a journal titled Zum Lautwert einiger Hieroglyphen, (ZÄS 138 (2011), 132-149). With a purpose of presenting some notes on the final matter tackled in his article, Roccati comments on the differences between the philological analysis of the pictorial glyphs in ancient Egyptian language, and their development in the Coptic language.