

The Bronze Coins from Al-Bediyeh Site during the Byzantine Period

Zaydon El Mohysen- Saaeda Affana- Mohamed Nasar

This article focuses on the Byzantine bronze coins found at Al-Bediyeh site, these coins include the Anastasios I, Justine, Justinian, Justin II, Emperor Tiberius II, where the emphasis was on the description and analysis of those pieces, found throughout this site that witnessed political stability initially reflected positively on the economy, leading the continuity of the Byzantine currency, with engraved names of five Byzantine referees, which were initially found on the location; in addition there are three centers contributing to the production of coins, namely Constantinople, Nikomedia and Cyzicus, which is prevalent in Asia.